Acornsoft's LINKWORD language courses are quick, easy and fun!

Now you can teach yourself a foreign language in the comfort of your own home. With Acornsoft's LINKWORD language courses, grasping the basics isn't a chore. So be prepared for that last minute business trip, that much loved annual holiday or simply impress your friends at school.

Whole range of topics

Acornsoft's LINKWORD language courses overcome many of the problems associated with learning vocabulary in a limited time. You'll be amazed at how quickly you can pick up a vocabulary of around 350 words and some of the basic grammar without hours of homework, simply by reading what is on the screen and working with your microcomputer. You'll cover a whole range of topics from restaurants, food, numbers and business to travelling, emergencies, the car and the beach. With this vocabulary you'll soon be able to make yourself understood in a variety of situations. And what's more you don't need a flair for languages to use the LINKWORD courses!

For anyone and everyone

Anyone and everyone can use Acornsoft's LINKWORD language courses - from the dynamic business executive and the busy mum to the enthusiastic and adventurous youngster.

Planned learning

You can choose from four different language courses - French, German, Spanish and Italian. Each comprises a program cassette, a comprehensive instruction booklet complete with glossary, and an audio cassette to help you with pronunciation. As you use the programs you will follow a planned learning sequence, which continually develops your knowledge.

Easy-to-use format

The programs are very easy to use. You are prompted throughout on what to do next, given advice about different points of grammar and hints on how to remember genders for example, advised as to when you should listen to the audio cassette and, of course, you can go at your own pace.

Unconventional and imaginative

Specially developed by psychologist, Dr Michael M Gruneberg, the courses are unique in using a number of established principles of memory to make language learning quicker, easier and more enjoyable than by conventional methods. Emphasis is placed on the association of words with visual images.

Here is an example:

You are told:
The German for WAITER is OBER.
You are asked to:
Imagine a waiter carrying a plate of AUBERgines.

Acornsoft's LINKWORD language courses - a radical and imaginative new approach to foreign language learning.

The LINKWORD programs are available on cassette for the British Broadcasting Corporation Microcomputer Model B. Disc versions will follow shortly.
