INTERNATIONAL MEGASPORTS/ THE GENESIS PROJECT

Two great games for the price of one in this super value twin program pack for the BBC.

International Megasports — A super test of sporting and athletic prowess comprising seven events, each brilliantly animated in full hi-res colour. Get on your marks for the 100 metres and Hurdles; get your eye in for the Skeet Shooting and Archery; go head over heels for the Long Horse; then if you still have the energy, go for the Long Jump and High Jump. All events include practise mode, so get your trainers on and go for gold!

Genesis Project — The year is 2143 AD. Deep in space the war between the planets of the six zones of the Gamma-Serti system has been halted by an uneasy truce. But now the truce is threatened by the discovery of rare mineral deposits on an uninhabited asteroid in one of the zones. The planet Targon-3 has claimed these deposits as its own and has deployed six Cobolthium devices to reinforce its claim. Your mission, on behalf of the Star Federation, is to take your ship, the Genesis Probe, to the Gamma-Serti system and neutralise the devices so that the mining rights can be shared equally between the planets.

FRANKENSTEIN 2000

Another combined BBC and Electron package. The year 2000AD. Freddy Frankenstein, the great grandson of the infamous baron, has inherited the estate in Bavaria. On taking possession, Freddy discovers the long lost location of the monster. He decides to follow in his ancestor's footsteps and try to revive the monster using modern technology. Freddy will shrink a submarine containing himself to sub-particle size and inject it into the monster's body in order to correct its defects and reactivate its heart.

A fantastic voyage where the hazards include frogs in the throat, cigarette packets in the lungs, and deadly fried eggs in the stomach. We hope you have the heart for it!
